

Establishing A Statewide Accreditation Knowledge Network (VRAS)

Linda Birtley, Union Presbyterian Seminary
Cindy Chiarello, James Madison University
Geoffrey Klein, Christopher Newport University

SACSCOC Annual Meeting, Houston

Participant Learning Outcomes

- ▶ The benefits of creating/having a statewide (or state regional) network of colleagues involved in the accreditation process
- ▶ Strategies for developing an inter-organizational infrastructure to sustain the network
- ▶ Strategies for planning and evaluating structured, annual events for knowledge sharing
- ▶ Decision points and approaches to recruiting institutions of higher education to join a network
- ▶ Participants will be provided with sample surveys, agendas, and planning tools to help create their own event
- ▶ Participants will be asked to sit at tables assigned by state (or representing states) to facilitate networking during the active learning segment. Each group (by state) will engage in activities designed to produce preliminary plans for creating in-state knowledge networks.

Details Matter!

Logistics of the Event

Creating the Agenda

- ▶ Use interest survey to determine topics of interest

Thank you to the 2018 VRAS Planning Board Chair, Geoffrey Klein, and to the Planning Board members:

Linda Birtley	Lois Myers

Jackie Bourque	Oladayo Oyejola
Cheryl Carroll	Tisha Paredes
Cindy Grove Chiarollo	Christopher Richardson
Herman (Skip) Kastroll	Kristi Shuckelford
Craig Lawhorne	Jan Wallin
Clifton Myles	Kathy Walker

Tips

- ▶ Holding event at host institution is usually less expensive than at a rented venue
- ▶ The symposium is a good opportunity for institutions who cannot attend the SACSCOC Annual Meeting to get important information...keep these institutions in mind when planning
- ▶ A planning group to help with responsibilities makes the whole process much easier

Funding and Budget

- ▶ Estimate costs of event to determine registration fee
- ▶ Plan for unexpected expenses
- ▶ Plan for future expansion of group
- ▶ Think about any restrictions your institution/state place on expenditure of funds
- ▶ Goal is to break even

Tips

- ▶ Ask institutions if they are willing to sponsor some or all the event: online registration, SACSCOC VP visit, catering, event space, etc.
- ▶ SACSCOC VP/Staff travel is unknown until you receive the invoice...have a back up plan for reimbursement

Next Steps for Virginia's Group

Future of the VRAS

- ▶ Assessment results from previous annual meetings
  - ▶ Post-symposium surveys

2013 Survey (Sample Questions):

Do you have any suggestions to improve the symposium for next year?

Would you like to see more formats for next year's symposium? If so, do you have suggestions (concurrent sessions, presentations, etc.)?

This symposium was scheduled adjacent (date and location) to the VAG conference. Did this make it easier for you to attend the symposium? Next year's VAG conference is in Norfolk, VA. Would you prefer to have a similar situation for the symposium next year?

Would you attend a VRAS-sponsored event this fall if it were offered and if your schedule allowed?

Tips

- ▶ Keep early evaluations focused on "bit picture" items (aka organizational questions and general meeting questions) at your earlier events.
- ▶ Leverage meeting evaluations to aid in the planning for the next one.

Response	Frequency	Percent
Yes	69	97.2
No	2	2.8

Future of the VRAS

“Information about new expectations related to new standards”

“I made connections with colleagues, which will be invaluable.”

Future of the VRAS

- ▶ Building the group into a non-profit
  - ▶ Benefits of being a non-profit
    - ▶ Enter into business dealings
    - ▶ Form contracts
    - ▶ Fiduciary responsibility is the organization’s responsibility
  - ▶ Create Articles of Incorporation and Create bylaws

Fun With Shapes: Geography Matters

The SACSCOC Region: Practical Considerations State by State

- ▶ How does the number of accredited institutions and the geography of your state influence the structure of your network?
- ▶ What do the size and shape of the state tell you about the types of meetings and frequency of meetings that might be held?

Virginia

39,490.09 square miles
71 SACSCOC accredited institutions (using 2018 data)

Your Turn!

Creating Networks In Your State

You should be seated at a table with colleagues from your state who are also interested in developing a Statewide Accreditation Knowledge Network...

Exchange contact information!

Creating Networks In Your State

Considerations for how to establish a similar network in your state/locality

- ▶ Visit the SACSCOC website to find other SACSCOC accredited institutions in your state. <http://www.sacscoc.org/membershipInfo.asp>
- ▶ How does the number of accredited institutions and the geography of your state influence the structure of your network?
- ▶ What do the size and shape of the state tell you about the types of meetings and frequency of meetings that might be held?

As a group, write ideas for the following:

- ▶ Brainstorm at least five events in your state that you can “piggy-back” to get your accreditation knowledge network started. (example in Virginia - the Virginia Assessment Group)
- ▶ Development of membership: deliberate effort to include different institution types, participants with diverse roles at institutions
- ▶ Plan for rotating leadership

Ideas and Resources

Resources for this concurrent session will be online at www.jmu.edu/sacscoc/Pres\_vras.shtml
